Housewife Tells Of Rape-Robbery

The trial for Curtis Frank Brooks, accused of rape and armed robbery, continues today. Brooks, above right, has been watched by Randall County Sheriff's deputies throughout this week's proceedings. He allegedly tried one escape attempt while under arrest in Amarillo.

BY TROY MARTIN

A distraught young housewife Wednesday told a jury here that she was terrorized, raped and robbed by an ex-convict who invaded her South Amarillo home with a pistol the afternoon of Jan. 19.

Curtis Frank Brooks, 21, Arlington, charged with rape, testified that most of the witnesses besides himself had lied under oath and that the complaining witness not only had been willingly intimate with him but had actually been the aggressor.

Brooks, who bore the scars of superficial self-inflicted slashes on the arm and wrist, sat morose and chain smoking through most of the testimony. The prosecutrix, mother of three, shook violently as she stood with other witnesses earlier in the day to be sworn. She almost swooned as she left the court room supported by her husband.

Over objection of Defense Attorney Bill Kolius of Amarillo, Judge Gene Jordan admitted into evidence a confession in which Brooks admitted raping and robbing the young housewife.

On the stand, Brooks repudiated the confession and said it was forced from him by threats of bodily harm from Amarillo City Detective Luther Bartlett.

Testimony in the case was completed at 5:40 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Court was recessed until 9 o'clock this morning (Thursday) when the jury will receive the court's charge and hear arguments.

Kolius battled to keep the Brooks confession from being admitted. In absence of the jury he placed Brooks on the stand to swear that the confession had been obtained under duress.

Brooks said Bartlett threatened to "blow his -- ----- head off if he didn't sign" and then told him he would turn him over to the woman's father.

Bartlett and several other witnesses, including two Amarillo television men, took the stand to testify that Brooks made the statement voluntarily.

Bartlett denied ever having issued a threat.

Also in the absence of the jury, Pauline Marie Aanderud, a cleaning woman who took care of the apartment where Brooks stayed in Amarillo, testified of having given information which led to the arrest of Brooks.

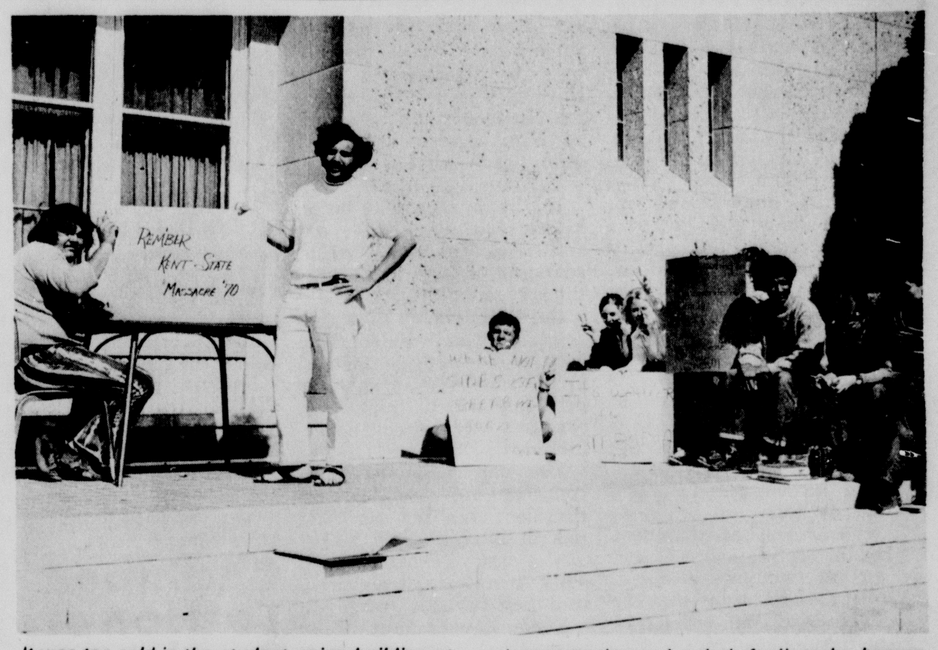

Brooks was taken into custody the morning of Jan. 20 aboard a Braniff airliner aboard which he had planned to fly to Dallas. Miss Aanderud said she had made reservations for him under the name of Gary Emerson.

She said Brooks had shown her several $2 bills, a large amount of change and some antique silverware. Her information led to the arrest of Brooks as a burglary suspect.

Judge Jordan ruled that evidence seized by officers at the time of the arrest was admissible.

Officers, including Assistant District Attorney Mike Hinton, testified that Brooks was repeatedly warned of

It was too cold in the student union building at West Texas State University Tuesday and about 15 students decided to hold a small demonstration to let their feelings be known. But, before the demonstration was over, signs had appeared such as the one at far left.

WTSU Still Not In MV Conference

West Texas State University officials, although not formally accepted into the Missouri Valley Conference Tuesday, were given every hope the school will become a full member after a procedural visit to the campus in mid-May.

University officials and Missouri Valley Conference officials, speaking from their meeting in Des Moines, Iowa, were very optimistic that acceptance of West Texas would come around June 1.

Before a final vote can be taken, a three-member team from the conference must visit the Canyon campus to view scholarships and academic records.

Then, upon their return, an eight-man committee will vote on WTSU's application for membership.

The visitation team is expected here about May 18-19.

Head WTSU Coach Joe Kerbel said he expects the university in the very near future to be a full-fledged member of the conference.

Kerbel termed the visit to the campus as simply a procedure which must be followed according to MVC rules.

Dr. Bill Miller, vice president of the conference, said the MVC membership voted unanimously Tuesday to expand the conference. He said West Texas State is the only school under scrutiny for membership.

When asked if he feels the unanimous vote for expansion was a vote of confidence for West Texas, Dr. Miller said "I would say it is a vote of

Demonstrators Protest Low SUB Temperature

BY CARROLL WILSON

In a spirit of jest, about 13 students staged a heat-in under the morning sun on the steps of the West Texas State University student union building Tuesday.

Their gripe? "It's freezing in the SUB."

Their answer? Go where it's warmer.

And they did. Two students transported a table and several chairs from the SUB and four began playing spades.

Others sat on the steps and watched passers-by gawk.

Finally, one male student located some poster board and a felt-tipped pen. Put them together and you have instant protest.

"We're not sides of beef--why freeze us out?" asked on sign.

"It's warmer in Cambodia" said another.

"We won't cut class if you'll turn up the heat," said one.

And so on.

Now, with multi-colored signs to present their case, the students sat it out, talking among themselves or shouting to passing students.

Some passers-by read the signs, smiled and walked on. Others read the signs with unchanged expression and walked on. Some stopped to ask what was going on.

"It's too cold in there, man," said the demonstrators.

Not long after the demonstrators had erected their placards, the campus Security Department officers began circling the SUB slowly in cars. They squinted and strained to read the signs, then drove on, only to come back again.

Finally Security Chief Bobby Hudson and Kenneth Robinson stepped from the SUB to the side of the demonstration. They casually looked

Industries Eye Canyon For Potential Locations

Several new industries, most of them related to the beef industry, have shown a real interest in locating in the Canyon area, directors of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce were told Monday night.

Chamber President Eddie Knowles showed directors a hand-full of letters received from interested industries, outlined each one and stressed that Canyon must become actively involved in attracting industry to this area.

"We have talked to one gentleman who wanted a plant to employ 15 people," Knowles said. "I'm working and trying to find him a building. I have contacted him and he is interested in our locale. His type business is concerned with beef packing."

Knowles said another firm from Crowell, Tex., wants to erect storage tanks near Canyon. He said the tanks would not contain flammable products.

"That's not much," he said, "But I'm trying to help them get the land they want."

Another industry which is eyeing Canyon he said, is a slaughter house which would process 7,500 head per week.

"Where we're situated, we're right in the middle (of the cattle production boom in the Panhandle)," Knowles said. "We don't want these industries right in Canyon, but in the outlying areas."

Knowles said he received a call recently from a businessman in the East who wants to move a hide plant to this area.

"I have land located for them," he said.

Bernard Warren suggested when heads of prospective industries come to Canyon to locate a site, that they might be given full red-carpet treatment.

Knowles concurred and said he will keep the Chamber informed on any visits to the city by prospective industries.

In other business, Warren suggested the chamber board write a letter to Chili Smith, district engineer for the Texas Highway Department, urging him to make every possible consideration for a westerly by-pass with Interstate 27.

The proposed highway is to by-pass Canyon by a route not yet revealed.

Warren noted that "if the highway could go west, instead of east it would do more to rejuvenate the town and help Canyon grow."

Knowles said the appropriate time to make the chamber's feelings felt

Local Banks Show Deposit Rise, Loss

West Texas State Bank in Canyon reported record deposits in its response to a call for statements of condition by federal and state regulatory agencies, but Canyon's First National Bank showed a decrease in deposits during this year's first quarter.

West Texas State Bank reported deposits totaling $3,806,752. This was about $45,000 above its Oct. 1969 sum. The figure is about $200,000 above the total for Dec. 31, 1969.

First National Bank reported total deposits of $15,214,370. This was down about $1.5 million compared to the Dec. 31, 1969 call.

Deposits in both banks totaled $19,021,122.

Loans in both banks totaled $13,662,101.

First National dropped in loan amounts for the first quarter, down several hundred thousand dollars from the Dec. 31, 1969 figures.

West Texas State Bank's loans are up about $200,000 over the Dec. 31, 1969 figure.

Hunsley Road To Be Topic

The Texas Highway Commission is expected to pass a minute order at its meeting today in Austin calling for the closing of the center median of U.S. 87 at the Hunsley Road intersection north of Canyon.

J.C. Dingwall, state highway engineer, said the action is anticipated today.

Chili Smith, district highway engineer, said his office will begin closing the median as soon as possible after receiving the minute

County Conventions Set; GOP Passes Resolutions

County conventions for both the Republicans and Democrats will be Saturday night. The Republicans are expected to act on several resolutions.

The Republican County convention will be at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Canyon High School auditorium. The Democrat county convention will be at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Rex Reeves School.

Both parties' executive committees canvassed votes Tuesday night.

The Republicans passed a fist-ful of resolutions at their precinct conventions last Saturday night after primary elections.

Dick Brooks, county Republican chairman, said the resolutions passed at the precinct conventions will be screened by a resolution committee before presentation to the county convention.

Very few resolutions came from the Democrats.

One interesting resolution from the Republican precincts came from No. 10.

The resolution reads "Whereas certain elected Republican party officials have supported candidates of other parties without first resigning from the Repub-

Petition Seeks Cambodia Out

A petition asking President Nixon to recall troops from Cambodia and to proceed "with all dispatch" to remove military forces in Vietnam will be circulated through Friday on the West Texas State University campus.

Dr. Darrell Munsell, a professor of history at WTSU, said the tables will be set up in the foyer of the Activities Center and in the game room of the student union building through Friday for signing of the petition.

"Those students and members of the faculty who are interested in making their opposition to the current American policy in Indo-China known to the government are urged to sign this petition," he said.

Munsell said the space for the tables was reserved in the SUB and new Activities Center by Freedom Forum, a student group which in part sponsored fall moratorium activities.

However, Munsell said the petition is sponsored by a group of individuals.

He said the petition is mainly an outgrowth of the recent committment by President Nixon of troops in Cambodia.

The petition reads as follows:

"Believing that war is not the solution to the problems in Indo-China, we, the undersigned, oppose the use of United States and ARVN forces in Cambodia. We call upon the President to recon-

County Commission Oks Audit, Studies Culvert Costs For Area

County commissioners accepted the audit of the budget of 1969 at a regular Monday meeting and were told the county's books are in good shape.

William M. Francis, representing the accounting firm of Doshier, Pickens and Francis of Amarillo, presented the audit report to the commissioners.

"You're starting out in better shape than you did a year ago," he said. "You were $120,00 richer at the end of the year than you were at the first,"

Francis reported that the audit "checked out fine."

He suggested to commissioners that budgetary records or financial records for the county be centralized.

It was indicated this might be the case when the county goes into a unit system type road maintenance operation beginning Jan. 1, 1971.

He also suggested that departments within the county government turn over their revenues to the county earlier in the month than previously. He explained this would allow the money to be placed into certificates of deposit and therefore bring in additional revenue through interest.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton agreed to the proposal.

Francis said he will talk with other department heads about the plan.

In other business, commissioners discussed the possibility of requiring residents desiring culverts pay for the culverts. The county would place the culverts at no expense to the resident.

Bill Butler said culvert costs in the county "are getting out of line."

"We should furnish the

FROM THE CANYON RIM

As sad as it is when countryman sheds the blood of countryman, it was predictable.

I am speaking of the riots and resulting bloodshed at Kent State University in Ohio. We will see more of it if rioting continues.

From Berkley to Chicago and on to Columbia it has followed the same pattern. Mobs pillage, burn and destroy and then when authority moves in, no matter how feebly and apologetically, the cry is pigs! police brutality and down with the establishment!

Of course I am saddened to see anyone shot down but it is high time that force is met with sufficient force to contain it whether it is in Viet Cong trenches in the Parrot's Beak in Cambodia or on the beleagured campus at Kent State.

It was only after student began looting stores and breaking windows in downtown Kent Saturday that the governor of Ohio ordered in the National Guard.

Much of the national media will try to sell these thugs to the public as harmless students bent on "peaceful dissent."

The real aim of the sinister men behind the dissent which almost invariably descends into confrontation and destruction is not dissent at all. It's real goal is to pull down the government of these United States which Lennists, Maoists and the new left alike refer to as the establishment.

I have sat in meetings of the Students for a Democratic Society and heard this goal expounded by people who almost always show up when "dissent" is in the air.

I grant you that some of the students who participate may be hoodwinked into thinking they support a moral cause though the end result is the same as if they embarked purposely to undermine their country.

In the background lurks keener minds bent on sedition through high sounding phrases and sometimes even lofty petitions.

Do not be fooled by these peddlars of subversion. The legal avenue of dissent is not in the streets or in signing petitions which might be used in a way that you never intended.

You can write to your congressman, senator or President and not run the risk of having some latter day Castros declare, possibly on national television, that they represent you.

Your government has never been more responsive to the individual than it is today. Likewise, it has never been in greater peril.

I was surprised by some of the election results Saturday but not by the senate race.

This column predicted the political demise of Senator Ralph W. Yarborough more than a year ago. I didn't know who would run against him but the senator is not cut from the same political cloth as most Texans.

Let me say this for Senator Yarborough, although I considered him a political foe I never questioned his sincerity. He is a liberal, first last and always, and he never pretended to be anything else.

Yarborough's defeat was bad news for George Bush who was the winner in the Republican primary over Robert Morris. Bush would have taken Yarborough because he would have pulled thousands of Democrats across party lines.

In November election it may be the Democratic candidate who will emerge as the conservative. Right now it looks like Bentsen in November by a good margin.

I was surprised by the state senate race. I had expected Walter Knapp and Jack Hazlewood to go into the runoff but as it turned out it will be Hazlewood and Max Sherman.

The victor in that contest will have his work cut out when he meets Republican Malouf Abraham of Canadian in the general election.

Another surprise was the GOP county judge. I really thought that somehow Mayor J. Ernest Stroud would win and I was taken aback when Judge Joseph Schley smashed him almost three to one.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

Science has discovered that nothing in our material universe disappears without a trace. Nature knows no extinction; all it knows is transformation.

There is nothing in creation that can come from nowhere or go nowhere, nor can it be free. Everything in our economy has a source, a purpose, and a cost that someone has to pay.

Government is never a source of production. Everything that is produced is produced by the people. Everything the government gives to the people it must first take from them.

The only real money the government has to spend is tax money, or money borrowed with the people's earnings as collateral. When paper money is created with no material security, it reduces the value of everyone's income, savings, and property.

In any monetary-exchange economy, all payroll and employment is created by customers. Job security depends on customer security; if there are no customers there will be no payrolls or jobs.

Customer security depends on cooperation between worker and management. When workers sabotage the products or steal from their employers, they are destroying their own job opportunities.

Because labor is the principal cost of everything, widespread wage increases without corresponding increases in production, increase living costs for everybody. And if people are permitted to share in the national income without sharing the burden of producing it, free enterprise will be destroyed.

The theory of communism is beautiful: Each puts in according to his ability, and each takes out according to his need. But every adult knows that this idealistic theory will work only in the bosom of the family, and that it stops with the first in-law.

The communists, however, at least require everyone to share the work as well as the wealth. The theory that man is entitled to an income just because he exists is contrary to all the laws of God and Nature. In the realm of Nature, the young and helpless are cared for, but the mature and able must provide for themselves or perish. Paul summarized this natural law in the Bible when he commanded "that if any would not work, neither should he eat" (II Thess. 3:10).

It usually comes as a rude surprise to the hippies who flee to rural communes to escape the establishment that they are still not free to idle away their lives in drug-filled dreams. Even these dropouts from society have discovered the fact of life that someone has to work if anyone is to eat, and that wood has to be chopped if they have a fire to sit by.

Any industrious man is likely to lose his incentive to work when the fruits of his labor are taken from him and given to idlers. And the shirker is deprived of all incentive to work when his working neighbor is forced to feed him in his idleness. Soon they will both be hungry.

The guaranteed-income plan already approved by 243 to 155 members of the House makes a man entitled to an income merely because he exists. It also puts a premium on children--legitimate or not--in our overpopulated world.

Such a plan will discourage the intelligent working class from having children because they cannot afford them, and will encourage the indigents to multiply because it is profitable for them.

Any government powerful enough to give its citizens everything they need is also powerful enough to take away everything they have. Of the 24 great civilizations recorded in the history books, 19 fell from within. If the "land of the free" continues its rapid transformation into a welfare state (another name for communism--where no one is free) our beloved Nation will probably be number 20.

Census Figures To Be Revealed

Population figures for Canyon and Randall County will be available probably late next week, the Census Bureau said Tuesday.

The initial figures released for the 1970 census will be of head-count only, a Bureau spokesman said. Other information gathered from the census forms will be available at a later date.

The spokesman said the census has just about come to an end in this area. She said some forms are still being mailed in.

But, she said, late this week will be too late to get census forms in for the county.

Kidney Transplant Remains In Doubt

The future of Connie Conwell, former Canyon High School student who must undergo a kidney transplant, is still undecided.

The picture was clouded for the young girl again this week when Randall County Judge Carroll Brown received a letter from the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston.

Miss Conwell is currently in the Galveston hospital awaiting the surgery, after several weeks of hassling with various officials.

The letter this week stated the following:

"It is the policy of the University of Texas Medical Branch Hospitals to verify the indigence claimed by patients admitted to this hospital and to request county payment toward our average patient per diem cost (i.e. $42.66 per day for 1969) for every patient that is unable to pay the minimum hospital charges..."

Judge Brown said he is not sure the letter means the county must pay $42.66 per day for the girl or whether another amount is suitable.

The county had already agreed to pay $13 per day for expenses.

Brown said he will inquire further, before presenting the matter to county commissioners.

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the Edna Graham scholarship to the outstanding math senior.

Kindergarten Class To Be Offered Here

Canyon Public Schools will offer their first fall kindergarten classes during the school year 1970-71.

According to a new law in the state of Texas, guidelines have been established to be followed and the main responsibility for determining the eligibility of children entering kindergarten has been designated to each school district.

The Canyon Schools have chosen to use a team judgement approach in their screening program. Emphasis will be placed upon the perceptual and motor skill development of the children.

In order for a child to be eligible for kindergarten, for the school year 1970-71, they must be five years and five months old on or before September 1, 1970.

Local administrators are to enroll those children that give evidence that they can be helped by having an early year in school.

A list of the names of children who are eligible for screening for kindergarten follows. It is based on the school's census roll. Parents with other children who will be 5 years and 5 months on or before September 1, 1970 whose name is not listed should contact either Rex Reeves, Umbarger or Gene Howe School principals for listing their child.

The fall kindergartem will be located at Rex Reeves School to serve the entire district.

Student Leader Lashes Rudd

A national student government officer attending West Texas State University lashed out at Students for a Democratic Society leader Mark Rudd during an Iowa education conference speech Friday.

David Harmon, functions vice-president of the Association of Student Governments and a junior government and speech major at West Texas State, criticized Rudd and the SDS for their alleged role in the Columbia University rioting in 1968.

Harmon made the remarks at the annual Pacific Northwest Conference on Higher Education, held at the College of Great Falls in Great Falls, Iowa.

"It is hypocrites such as Rudd and other revolutionaries," Harmon said, "that make responsible change difficult, if not impossible."

"Such leaders want to widen the gulf that exists between students and administrators. Yet we realize we cannot open minds by cracking skulls," he added.

Harmon said the Institute for Defense Analysis and the construction of a gymnasium were key issues around which the protests were organized.

He also said Rudd was quoted by the Boston Globe during a Harvard University speech as saying "Let me tell you, we manufactured the issues at Columbia. The Institute for Defense Analysis is nothing, just three professors and the gym is bull. I didn't even know how to get to the gym until the demonstration started."

Harmon said many universities which have been the scene of political demonstrations were penalized through repressive legislation.

"When legislators pass laws which take funds from the universities, they are playing into the hands of those radicals whose goal it is to 'shut down' the universities, and eventually the system," he said.

He then warned of student activists who present demands to a university which cannot be met.

"In many cases the leaders of the group do not have the best interests of the group at heart, and have added non-negotiable demands as insurance that a confrontation will take place," he said.

"Students not only need to be aware of those leaders who would use them; but, must find an alternative for change."

"The prime example of students being used is the confrontation which took place at Columbia," he said.

Harmon said a strong, meaningful student government on campus fills the void between concerned students and those who favor confrontation.

"Through a sensitive student government, students have a credible channel for solving problems and making their views known," he said.

He also said colleges and universities should realize the necessity of changing their procedures and should improve communications with students to accomplish changes.

Harmon attended the weekend conference with Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WTSU.

Geology Department Receives Well Samples

Students and faculty of the geology department at West Texas State University have completed the transfer of a well sample library from Sun Oil Co. in Amarillo to the Killgore Research Center here.

Jack Campbell of the department, said the library was a gift from the oil company to the university. Sun Oil has moved its Amarillo office.

The library, which required about 10 days and more than 300 man hours to move, consists of about 8,500 boxes of drill cuttings and cores representing hundreds of wells primarily in West Texas, Western Oklahoma, and Eastern New Mexico, Campbell said.

Sun Oil also donated shelves for the samples, which are indexed and cross-referenced.

Campbell said the library will be a tremendous boost for the university.

"We can use these samples and cores to teach a sub-surface techniques course which we expect to add to the curriculum one of these days," he said.

The library will also be used, he said, for research by students and faculty.

Campbell said in the past, WTSU instructors have been hampered in such research by lack of funds to borrow from another library. They were also limited in how they could experiment with the samples and cores.

He said, though, the library is not intended as a reference library for the area.

"There are other sources in Amarillo from which similar materials can be borrowed," he said.

This is Oldsmobile's year at Indy.

Isn't it your year for an Olds?
The knowing folks at Indy just named Olds 4-4-2 official pace car for this year's 500.
For good reason. Olds is not only an excellent performer, it's a winner in looks and ride as well.
The fact is, every 1970 Olds is a pacesetter. And it goes far deeper than performance.
You find it in great engineering. In exceptional comfort. In ride and handling that are outstanding. And in the solid quality and dependability you've come to expect from Oldsmobile.
In fact, it's this quality that leads many people to believe that Olds is priced out of their reach. A mistaken notion that might keep you in an ordinary car, instead of an Olds.
The truth of the matter is that many Olds models are priced right down with the low-price names.
Now that you have the facts, isn't this your year to go Oldsmobile? You can probably do so for no more than what you've been paying. See your nearest Olds dealer!

Teacher Urges Political Involvement At Banquet

The president of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association urged Canyon teachers to become involved in politics Tuesday night, but warned that teacher unions may gain a hold on Texas.

Miss LaVerne Wong of Waco, said teaching must remain a profession and must be kept on a professional level.

She spoke to the annual Canyon Classroom Teachers Association banquet here.

"We need educators to speak for educators," she said, calling for political involvement of teachers. "School boards need to provide extra money in their budgets to let some educators do, be heard and speak out for children of our communities."

She urged the teachers to work for legislation which will benefit their profession as well as their students.

"Your responsibility goes beyond the classroom," she said. "It encompases legislation.

"I urge all of you, if you are truly interested in Canyon, the state of Texas to become politically active."

Miss Wong warned that unions could come to Texas and make as much noise as they have elsewhere.

She warned, too, that the basic problem with a teacher's union is the lack of participation required to the member teachers.

"In professional organizations you have autonomy. You can do your own thinking," she said.

Miss Wong said change will come, and teachers must be prepared to act rather than react.

Retiring teachers Earline Moreman and Mary Weeks were honored by the more than 250 teachers and student teachers who attended the banquet.

Mrs. Donna Wilson was installed as president of the group for the coming year. She is current president, also.

Entertainment for the banquet was provided by the Canyon High School Madrigal Singers and Sarah Beth Meyer, all-state band member.

Knowles announced that a representative of Southwestern Public Service Co. will present a report on industrial possibilities to the chamber and other interested residents at 2 p.m. May 14 in the activities center at West Texas State University.

The report, which was compiled as an Athur D. Little study, is customized for Canyon. A similar study was made of other Panhandle cities.

It was also announced at the meeting that Texas Branch of the National League of Postmasters wants to meet in Canyon for their annual convention in June of 1971. About 300 persons are expected.

Knowles suggested Chamber Manager Roland Black write the league president and ask his group to come in July, so they can see the production "TEXAS" in Palo Duro Canyon.

confidence."

Dr. Miller said he feels confident that WTSU will fill a spot in the conference.

"I'm as greatly encouraged and excited as you folks out there are," he said.

The conference voted in a new constitution Tuesday, in addition to voting to expand.

Dr. Miller said essentially the conference has two places open for additions to its membership.

He said the conference wants an eight-team football schedule and a 12-team basketball schedule.

Dr. Miller predicted that if WTSU is accepted into the conference, the university could begin competing for the title in football perhaps by the 1971-72 season.

He said formalizing of any conference basketball schedule for the Buffaloes might take until 1972-73.

In spring sports, Kerbel said the university could begin immediate competition.

Prior to Tuesday's MVC meeting, only six teams competed for the football crown in the conference. However, Drake was received back into the conference for football play, at the meeting.

Other sports taken to conference championships are basketball, baseball, track, tennis, golf, cross country, swimming and gymnastics.

Member schools of the conference include Memphis State, Wichita State, Bradley, Drake, St. Louis, North Texas State, Tulsa and Louisville.

Kerbel, along with WTSU information director Jack Donovan, attended the MVC meeting. They were joined Tuesday by University President James P. Cornette.

Butler said average costs of culverts is about $60 each.

No action was taken on the proposal, but it will be placed on next week's agenda.

The county will advertise for bids for one mower and five tractors for the various precincts.

Man Killed In Crash

Mario Serna, 19 years old, Amarillo, was killed about 8 o'clock Saturday night when the car he was driving went out of control and overturned three times near Umbarger.

Four passengers in the Serna auto were not injured, according to Ron Boyter, investigating Highway Patrolman.

The accident occurred on U. S. Highway 60 about a half mile west of Umbarger.

It went into the median and flipped, rolling three times. Serna was thrown from the vehicle and the car came to rest on his body about 1,000 feet from the point it first went out of control, Boyter reported.

lican office, be it therefore resolved that any Republican party office-holder who publicly supports the nominee of another party will be considered to have resigned his office and no longer recognized as a Republican Party office holder."

The resolution is interesting in light of several political switches among precinct chairmen in 1968. Several bolted the Republican Party, it is charged, and supported George Wallace.

Precinct 10 also passed a resolution supporting legislation which would require judges to be licensed and practicing attorneys.

Another interesting resolution was passed by Precinct 7. The resolution, noting that the Supreme Court has ruled communist can work in defense plants, urged that all elected Republican officials support a bill introduced into the House by Congressman Bob Price which would prohibit communists and subversives from working in defense plants.

Precinct 7 also passed a resolution urging support of Rep. Price's efforts to gain repeal of gun control legislation.

The precinct commended President Nixon for his efforts in appointing Supreme Court nominees.

"We demand that President Nixon and Congress take a win attitude toward Vietnam and Southeast Asia," stated one resolution from the precinct. It said this country owed it to the 40,000 Americans who have died in Vietnam to pursue a total military victory.

Precinct 7 also passed a resolution urging all elected Republicans to repeal "all such agencies as C. O. G. and its satellite regional commissions such as the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, unless voted in by the people."

Precinct 15 resolved to back Nixon and his policy in Vietnam. It went a step further and urged that the Unied States should not import goods from communist countries.

A resolution passed by Precinct 14 urged stronger control of pornographic literature and material.

Resolution activities in the Democratic precincts was small.

Precinct 20 resolved to recommend that all precincts be required to provide interpretors at the polling places in the event any voter is unable to read English.

It also resolved that the delegates go on record favoring a minimum voting age in Texas of 18 years, rather than 21 years.

Precinct 20 also resolved to urge President Nixon to use restraint in escalating the military efforts in Southeast Asia and specifically in Cambodia.

Rape . . .

his rights before he made the statement.

The prosecutrix pointed Brooks out in the court room and then testified that he was the man who came to her home the afternoon of Jan. 19, threatened her life and the life of her 5-year-old daughter if she did not submit to him.

She said Brooks came to the home on the pretext of looking for her husband. The child went to the door with the mother close behind.

She said Brooks asked for her husband's office number and she turned to a desk to write it down.

She said Brooks pulled a gun on her and told her not to make a sound. She testified that he pointed the gun at the child and said, "Do what I say and no one will get hurt."

The woman said she pushed the child into a bathroom and told her to lock the door.

She related that Brooks grabbed her right arm, twisted it behind her and pushed the gun into her back. She said she later learned that the gun had bruised her.

She reported that she was instructed not to turn around or look into a mirror. She was propelled down a hallway as Brooks looked to see if anyone else was in the house.

The woman was instructed to lie face down on the bed in the master bedroom, she testified, while Brooks took $160 out of her purse---money her father had given her a short time before so she could start to the university here.

"He blindfolded me with some small scarves from a drawer," she went on.

"He asked me how much money I had and I said $160. He said he knew that but wanted to see if I would lie because if I did he would kill my little girl."

She said he repeatedly threatened the life of the child and told her he knew where her two sons go to school and that if she did not obey him he would kill them also.

She testified that Brooks took her to the living room, unzipped her shirt and pulled it down over her shoulders and ordered her to undress.

When she did not comply he again threatened to kill the child, according to the prosecutrix. She complied, still blindfolded.

She said he made her lie on the floor.

"Then he raped me," she testified. "He had a gun and I had a little girl and he said he would kill her."

The woman related that Brooks warned her not to move and to swear she wouldn't report the incident to police "or I'll kill your children and your husband."

She said she swore she would not report it. She was taken back to the master bedroom where she testified she was bound hand and foot.

"He said 'Don't you have anymore money? I'm going to search the house and if I find any I'll kill that little girl,' " the woman testified. "I told him about my husband's coin collection."

The woman said she told Brooks about a lock box in which there was some money and told him where to find the key to it.

At one point, she said, Brooks rattled the door of the bathroom where the child was hiding.

At last, she declared, she could no longer hear him in the house. She said she lay still for a long time and finally managed to get the blindfold off. She freed herself and went to the bathroom and in whispers instructed her small daughter to open the door.

She looked at a clock and it was 2:05.

She called her mother. The mother subsequently called police and the husband.

Detective Bert Collins of the Amarillo Police Department told of arresting Brooks aboard the airliner and of warning him of his rights in a police car en route to the police station.

At the police station Brooks fled and was apprehended about a half block from the station a short time later.

Bartlett told of helping to search Brooks and finding 14 silver certificates, 11 bills of $2 demonination, 11 bills signed by James Bar--collector's items--and a cigarette lighter with the initials of the prosecutrix on it. These items---alledged to be loot from the home of the prosecutrix---were introduced as evidence.

An Amarillo physician who examined the prosecutrix at about 3:30 the day of the alleged offense said she had had sex relations. Under cross examination he testified that she had not been injured.

Larry Conners and Bob Hudleston, Amarillo TV men, testified of having witnessed Brooks' confession and denied that there was evidence of duress in obtaining it.

Detective James Smith testified of having taken 17 half dollars, 195 pennies, 180 nickels, 302 dimes, 73 quarters, 25 silver dollars and a foreign coin---all purported to be loot from the home of the prosecutrix, at the time of the arrest.

Also seized was a .22 caliber pistol which Brooks admitted having used at the home of the prosecutrix.

The mother testified of having gone to the home of her daughter after the phone call to find her crying and the scarves with which she was blindfolded still around her neck. She said she called her son-in-law and the police after learning what had happened.

Dr. Tom Cannon, West Texas State University, psychologist, testifying for the defense said Brooks has an IQ of 82 which borderlines being retarded.

"I believe he knows right from wrong and I believe he understands the proceedings against him," Cannon declared. Dr. Cannon said he ran tests on Brooks for some six hours.

Brooks told the jury he quit school in the seventh grade without ever having learned to read and write.

He admitted having gone to the home of the prosecutrix intent on burglary and was surprised to find someone at home. He flatly denied having threatened either the little girl or the woman.

He said the woman submitted willingly to his amorous advances and was even the aggressor.

He denied having pulled a gun on the prosecutrix or having blindfolded her. He said he went to the home to burglarize it and get some money so he could get out of Amarillo where three weeks of searching had failed to produce employment.

He admitted having looted the home and of having bound the housewife after being intimate with her.

Under cross examination by District Attorney George Dowlen, Brooks, who admits having done time for burglary and having broken parole, branded as lies much of the testimony of Amarillo police, a Randall County deputy and that of the prosecutrix and her mother.

Brooks was released from Texas State Prison only last November.

The state qualified jurors on the death penalty.

Fifty-seven were interrogated, coming within 10 of exhausting the venire. The defense used 13 pre-emptory challenges and the state 10.

Protest . . .

around as if surveying the campus, then turned nonchalantly to read the signs. Hudson studied each face, shook his head and strode back in the building.

Pretty soon out walked Hank Brown, director of the WT Ex-Students Association.

He donned a pair of sun glasses, walked from sign to sign, took off his sunglasses, turned to the press and said "it wouldn't be so bad if I didn't agree with them."

Biggest stir of the demonstration came when a newsman from an Amarillo television station walked up with his camera.

Girl demonstrators began straightening their hair. He shot some film, made some comments, asked some questions and then turned to leave.

"Hey, what channel is this going to be on?" asked several demonstrators. "Will it be on at 6 or at 10?"

He replied and left and the morning wore on.

More students go by, more stares, more smiles.

Finally, with the demonstration less than an hour old, up walked Frank Castleberry, former director of the SUB.

Castleberry laughed and went in the building. Shortly he returned with Phil Langen, director of the book store, which is located in the SUB.

"We concede to your demands," Castleberry announced and laughed. "We've turned down the heat and you can go back inside now--that is, if you want to."

A cry from the demonstrators.

"Ah, heck, you're ruining all our fun."

A couple of the long-haired types then painted a poster which read "Rem'ber Kent State Massacre 70."

Slowly the demonstration broke up, but not before another poster had been painted--"We overcame."

Dunbar, Howard County Standouts

Buffs Sign Two More Cagers

Two basketball players, one considered one of the top high school cagers in the Southwest, and the other a standout junior college performer, signed athletic scholarship agreements with West Texas State University.

Marc Wilson, 6-7, 230-pounder, was an all-stater at Lubbock Dunbar High School, and Glen Fletcher, 6-3½ and 180, stared for Howard County Junior College two years.

Wilson, who said he selected West Texas because of its strong basketball schedule, averaged 19.8 points per game and 18 rebounds per outing this past season.

He was named all-city, all-district, all-state and honorable mention All-American. He has been selected to play in the Texas High School Coaches Association all-star game this summer and the Faith 7 Texas-Oklahoma all-star game.

Basketball coach Dennis Walling says Wilson reminds him of Simmie Hill in his playing ability. "He's big and strong and is as quick and agile as Simmie. He's a better rebounder and defensive player, but needs to work on his outside shooting and ball-handling."

Fletcher averaged 15.5 points and 8 rebounds per game for Howard County Jayhawks in Big Spring. He was named all-conference and all-region.

As a high school player at Crane he was all-district and all-region.

Olsen Named UT Fellow

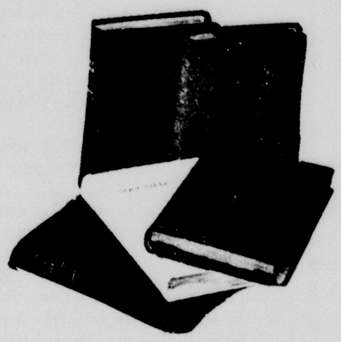

Robert Courtney Olsen is among 83 University of Texas undergraduates that have been named Engineering Fellows for the spring semester by the University of Texas Austin College of Engineering.

The status of the engineering fellow is above that of dean's honor roll, with only the highest two or three percent of the engineering student body selected each semester. Academis excellence must be sustained for a Fellow to retain his standing.

Selection is also based on leadership, citizenship and other points.

WBC Sets Final Meet Wednesday

"Stargazing In The Space Age" will be the subject of the final program Wednesday for the Woman's Book Club of Canyon.

Presenting the final program of the year will be Mrs. Charles Harter, Mrs. Lon Fanning and Mrs. Velton Sorgee. The meeting begins at 3 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick.

We're looking for trouble.

And we go out of our way to find it. Hopefully, before you do. We keep our telephone cables under air pressure to protect them from water, and we're constantly checking for leaks. We're testing your telephone line regularly to discover any potential problem before it occurs. But if you do notice trouble on your line before we do, just give us a call. We'll fix it . . . at no extra charge to you. We may be the only phone company in town, but we try not to act like it.

Everybody is looking for a bargain.

Here's one you can believe in.

LeSabre Custom

What makes the Buick LeSabres we sell such bargains?

We're dealing, for one thing. Spring is here and we're making up for lost time during those cold winter months when everybody stayed home by the fire.

We're going to make it real easy for you to get into a Buick and celebrate Spring.

But that's only part of what makes a bargain a bargain.

What about the car? Can you believe in it?

Every Buick is built with integrity.

You get things like a cooling system that should never overheat, even with air conditioning.

You get Buick's unique suspension system—AccuDrive—that makes this LeSabre one of the best handling Buicks ever.

You can even order a 350 cubic-inch, V8. With four-barrel carburetion. That delivers 285 horsepower. Yet runs on regular gas.

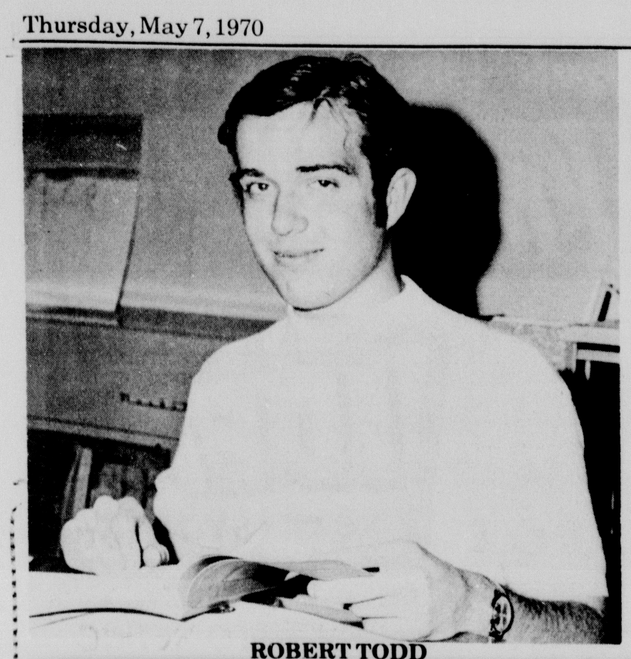

So, let's put it this way. If you want a bargain, we've got the ingredients. The car. And the deal.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?
